ment statesman and chronic office seeker, J. R. Flippin, has lost his amiability, and breaks out into an eruption of ill-temer, bad language and foul abuse. Says the Fredericksburg (Va.) Star, of the c2d: "Oa Sunday night last, Rev. C. Y. teptoe, of Culpeper county, who had been affering severely from a wound received during the war, arose and found his way in the tark to where he was accustomed to keep a bottle of spirits, and took a swallow. He at once discovered that a mistake had been made, and lighting a lamp, saw that he had drank from a bottle containing corrosive sublimate. He went with all speed to Dr. M'-Clanahan's residence, who administered an antidote, which gave him temporary relief. He remained at Dr. M'Clanahan's residence, and Drs. Rixey, Conway and Grayson were sent for. All that medical skill would suggest was done. Mr. Steptoe lingered until Tuesday morning, when death ensued. He was almost adored by the people of his parish, and beloved by all who knew him. He was a zealous worker in the cause of his Master. Mr. Steptoe leaves a wife and three small children. His remains were conveyed to the family burying-ground, near Lynchburg, for interment.

REV. C. H. M'KENNA lectures at half-past seven e'clock this evening, in St. Peter's church.

DR. Hemen Jones has removed his residence from 429 Vance street to 303 Landerdale street.

Captain J. V. Syreenic, press agent of W. W. Cole's hippodrome, circus and menagerie, is in the city at present. It is probable that Colonel Cole will winter in this city with his stock, animals and people, as he did last winter.

The Milah club beg to return their thanks to Mr. John T. Ratledge for the high compliment, and will ever be grateful for the same.

Our readers are rem inded that our old coat friend H. B. Packer is still in the business, at 192 Main street. He informs us that he has a good stock of No. I Pittaburg coal, and will not be undersold. Present price, fifty cents. Those wanting coal by the cask, card or carboal would do well to see him before purchase-dictated purely of a spirit of conciliation. No doubt the government would have to consider the interests of England, but the presentation of them would come in good time, and there is not the elightest reason to fear they will be neglected."

The Deity News says: "The Ottaman government declares its desire that the negotiations for peace may be brought about on the present basis of facts, and as its professions must be accepted as sincere, the public will wish it success in its new policy; it cannot be necessary to point out that, even upon the most limited interpretation of the office. It has assumed, that the queen's government has assumed a task of great delicacy. The present war primarily concerns Russia and Turkey, but the eastern question is one which must be considered by Europe by its present action. Our government has taken upon itself the character of intercessor for one unfortunate belligerent, while acting also officially for Europe. But it has to harmonize this new character with the declaration which it has repeatedly mane, and with its whole course of conduct, of which the least that can be said is that it has now measuraken to play on her majesty's ministers may very much depend whether the eastern question shall now be agained at least for many years to come, or this war will be followed by a mere true, the prelude to awar even greater and more disastrous than that of which we have well prove equal to their responsibilities."

MEMPHIS, December 28, 1877.

The Jury Returns a Verdict of Assault and Battery, and Fines the De-fendant Fifty-five Dollars.

Yesterday morning Senator Harris commenced his argument in the criminal court for the defense in the case of the State 18, L. H. Coe, indictment for the homicide of M. M. Beach. Senator Harris closed his argument at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, and then Attorney-General Wright commenced the concluding argument for the State, and closed at five o'clock pesterday afternoon. Judge Logwood delivered a lengthy, elaborate and able charge to the jury, and a number of special charges were considered by him, and either refused or given to the jury. The following section of the charge evidently struck the jury with great force, and upon it the jurys decided the case. "If the proof shows that the accused made an assault, or assault and battery, merely, and was not responsible in any manner, nor answerable to the law for the killing of Beach; that Beach did not come to his death from the blows given or wounds inflicted by the accused in the making of such assault and battery, or in the conflict, then, under such a state of facts, you should convict the accused of an assault, or assault and battery, no consider the fine should be over fifty dollars, you consider the fine should be fifty dollars, you consider the fine should be fifty dollars, or under that amount, you will merely return a verdict of guilty of assault, or assault and battery, and the court will fix the fine, or fine and punishment."

At half past six o'clock the papers in the case were handed to the jury, and the jury retired to consider a verdict, but not before it was announced that court would again convene at eight o'clock to receive a verdict, should the jury per able to find such, after full deliberation.

At eight o'clock has night court re-assembled, and in a fact of a manner, and the court will have a manner and a large for minutes the jury any accord in the bar.

H. A. Partee, Sr.

It is difficult at any time to feel reconciled to the death of those who are near and dear to us—of those whose lives are bound up with our own by the most sucred and holy ties; but it is especially hard to do so when death comes with step so light and stealthy as to take us wholly by surprise. This was the case with him whose name heads this brief tribute. His most intimate friends and associates had not so much as been apprised of his illness—at least of illness that was regarded as anything more than slight and temporary. The announcement, therefore, the his was sick unto death, if not already dead, fell like a thunderboit upon the hearts of those who loved him. Hastening to his beaside, it was even as we had beard. Our worst fears were but too surely confirmed. It was seen that he was in the last mortal struggie. Beyond the power of articulate speech, his streeting and recognition of friends was of the ego-of the bright and inextinguishable soul that flamed within the fast dissolving tabernacle. The eye was bright and smilling; the countenance was radiant and joyous; even as of those whose feet have touched the chilling wave, but whose souls are transported with the raptures of an unspeakable glory. The voice of unfeigned friendship cheered, while the hymn of Christain faith and hope soothed, the passing spirit. The palsied tongue regained its power for a moment, and with the words of paternal endearment—"Kiss verdict, should the jury be able to find such, after full deliberation.

At eight o'clock last night court re-assembled, and in a few minutes the jury appeared in the bex.

Judge Logwood suid. "Call the jury, Mr. Clerk."

Deputy-Clerk Blok Capers called the jury, and each juror responded to his name.

Judge Logwood—Gentlemen of the jury, have you agreed upon a verdict?

Mr. Lawior, foreman—We have.

Judge Logwood—Hand your verdict to the clerk.

Mr. Clerk, read the verdict.

Mr. Clerk, read the verdict.

Mr. Capers read as follows: "We, the jury, find the defendant fully of assault and battery, and fine the defendant fity-five dollars."

While the verdict was being read by the clerk, there was perfect silence in the court-room; but when it was announced, there was considerable applicate, and the friends of Mr. Coc crowded forward to shake hands with him, and congratulate him upon the result. Mr. Coe remained calm and quiet during the trying ordeal, and retired from the court-room in a few minutes, after which court adjourned over to to-morning, at the usual hour.

COLORED SCHOOL TEACHERS, -In Convention at St. Louis, Doing Good Work in the Interest of Educating the Colored Population of Missouri-Able and Elaborate Papers Read and Discussed.

ST. Louis, December 29.—The colored school teachers of this State have been in convention here the past two days, and have done a good deal of work affecting their interests, and the welfare of the colored children of the State. A score or more of papers, some of them quite able and elaborate, were read and discussed, and the whole ground of education, and facilities for its acquirement, was gove over, and, it is belived, much benefit to all concerned will grow out of the meeting. Resolutions were adopted heartily indorsing and earnestly companding for the people of the country the measure brought forward by Denstern March 1994. Hear now pending pefore congress, providing for a national public school fund, to be apportioned to the States and Territories upon the basis of their illiteracy, and calling on the press of the land to aid and encourage its passage. They also adopted a petition to the State legislature, asking an improvement of the existing laws affecting the educational interests of the colored people of Missouri They say the present law, which provides that in all repects, except the mere fact of separation the colored schools shall have the same advantages as the others of the same grade in their repective districts, is frequently and grossly violated; that the colored schools, in many instances, are held in basements or buildings ill adapted in room and furniture, while

REV. GEO. F. SEYMOUR, The Bishop-Elect of the Episcopal Dio cese of Springfield, Illinois, Replies to the Official Announcement of

NEW YONE, December 29.—The Evening Post publishes the reply of Rev. George F. Seymour to the official communication announcing his election to the episcopate of the diocese of Springfield, Illinois. Rev. Mr. Seymour says: "The fact that my election was unanimous impresses me profoundly, and I cannot, I dare not decline hastily and without deep searchings of the heart and patient waiting for divine guidance in response to earnest and continued prayer and the help to be derived from counsel of friends who are qualified to advise. If I am not qualified to say 'no' at once, I do not see any course open for me to pursue but to wait until the church at large, through her constituted authorities, has exprussed her judgment, in which event I may be spared the anxiety and distrees of deciding between the claims of my present position and the solemn call extended to me, as I believe under the guidance of God, the Holy Ghost, from all the clergy and all the laity present in primary convention of the diocese of Springfield to become the first bishop in the new jurisdiction. If ever the question comes really before me to determine, be assured I shall meet it promptly in the fear of ciod, and as beneath His bar of juagment I shall do my best to reach the right conclusion and immediately apprise you of the result."

KENTUCKY CRIME.

Murrell, the Murderer, Escaped from Prison-One of the Crab Grehard in the Grove Kennedy Murder Case. LOUISVILLE, December 28.—A Lebanon special to the Courier-Journal says that George Murrell, who was arrested near Beardstown, several months ago, and confined in the Louisville jail, from whence he was sent to Adair county, where an indictment is pending against him for murder, broke jail at Columbia last night and made his escape.

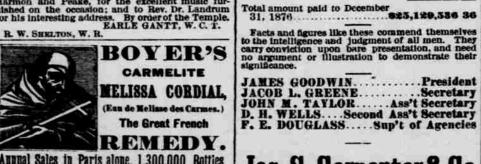

A Stanford special says that Jones, another of the Crab Orchard band of thieves, was arrested to-day. A rich vein has been struck, and it will lead to the complete unearthing of the den of thieves who have for years cursed that community.

A Lancaster special to the Courier-Journal says that the great murder tragedy, entitled the Commonwealth of Kentucky against Grove C. Kennedy, ended this morning in a ludicrous farce. The jury reported it impossible to agree, and were discharged. The prisoner was released on six thousand dollars bond, to answer the second Monday in June. Peter Kennedy, father of the prisoner, and John Holmes, are the bondsmen.

A BAD MAN Charged with Abduction and Rape of a Lady in Baltimore, he is Identified as Clarton, the Notorious Confidence Man of Cincinnati.

New Orleans, December 29.—Ray, alias Curtis, charged with the abduction and rape of a young lady of Baltimore, who was arrested in this city on Wednesday last, was arraigned, and remanded to the parish prison without ball, to await the arrival of an officer to accompany him back to the scene of his crime. From papers and a bogus check of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad, found in his possession, Ray is identified as John T. Claxton, the confidence man who recently reaged a rich harvest in Cincinnai in the role of confuctor and passenger agent of the above-mentioned road. I AM instructed to make the first advances, and to thoroughly acquaint myself with what is being or likely to be prepared for exhibition at the Paris Exposition of 1878 by the residents of Tannessee and adjoining States, so as to report as early as possible to the proper authority. It is of importance to the managers of the exposition that they should be fully informed in advance of what is likely to be exhibited from the different parts of the world, so they may be enabled to arrange for its proper location and ciassification. While, therefore, I shall make diligent inquiry, I shall be thankful to all interested if they will forward me such information as they may possess in relation to the subject.
